Destroy All Gondolas is a power trio born in the lagoon of Venice in 2012 after the experience of Black Flag Revival, a project by artist Ryts Monet, who combined for a performative installation Andrea (formerly Gonzales) on bass, Corrado (ex-Minkions now in Indian Nightmare, Buio) on drums and Enrico (aka Wasted Pido, former Hormonas, L'Amico Martucci, John Woo) on guitar and vocals.

Ended the experience Destroy All Gondolas compose a dozen new songs, and in 2013 they make two recording sessions, the first at the "Brick Studio" in Mirano (Venice) still unpublished, and a second at the "Outside Inside Studio" of Montebelluna (TV) performed by Nene Baratto, who gave birth to the cassette self-produced "Blast Tape", later reissued as a 7" by Kornalcielo and Sailor Overdrive Records in late 2014. the graphics and artwork are by Il Lama, independent design studio that conceive the whole visual part the band. Following several concerts in Italy and Berlin sharing the stage with Hobos, Santa Banana, Oozing Wound, Hallelujah !, Eu's Arse, to name a few cool bands. In 2016 they made a tour in Italy with Naples punks Motosega, and shortly after they recorded their first LP "Laguna di Satana" at La Distilleria in Bassano del Grappa with Maurizio "Icio" Baggio at the mixing desk.

Insto-surf pushed to the limit of a frantic black-thrash metal aural assault, "Laguna Di Satana" is a weird garage-punk tale evoking post-apocalyptic, exotic landscapes, often trespassing the wall of sound of hardcore with sporadic bitterly ironic shouted lyrics both in english and italian. In the twisted minds of Destroy All Gondolas references goes from Link Wray to Black Sabbath to Mayhem to Johnny Thunders. "Laguna Di Satana" is out on vinyl in May 2017 for MacinaDischi in coproduction with Sonatine Produzioni, Death Crush Distro, Crampi Records and Shyrec.
